Jesus was sitting at a well when a woman came his way
She was taken by the gentle words the Savior had to say
He told her your drawing water from a well that's made by man
But if you drink my living water you will never thirst again

The woman listened close to him though she did not understand
But she felt down deep within her heart he was more than just a man
For he told her things about herself till he could tell no more
She said there's only one who could know these things the Messiah Christ my Lord

Chorus:

Then she ran to the city, she ran into the street
Saying, "Come see a man" who told me everything
There was nothing, that I could hide, or what I'd done could take him by surprise
No one can change a life like he can
Oh come and see a man
Come and see a man

Well, I too was like that woman that stood at the well that day
I was thirsty down deep within my soul but it would not go away
But Jesus said unto me; draw from my well that never runs dry
And as I drank from his Living Water, I no longer wondered why.

Chorus:

She ran to the city, she ran into the street
Saying, "Come see a man" who told me everything
There was nothing, that I could hide, or what I'd done could take him by surprise
No one can change a life like he can
Oh come and see a man.

Chorus:
