

THE SCARS THAT YOU SEE

Written by: Marlene Pelt/BMI
Marlene Stafford Pelt Publishing/BMI
479-629-1322---479-629-5498 tommarlene@cox.net
www.marlenepelt.com

Looking back throughout the days that God had given me
I recall all the times my feet had strayed
As years of shame shadowed me
I cried out lord, how could this be?
You would choose to use my life so scarred with sin

Chorus:

He said the scars that you see they're only wounds healed by me
They just remind you of where you use to be
They did not alter they don't change my love remains the same
For the scars that you see, they're only wounds healed by me

Now when I cross to that great divine my old scars I'll leave behind
As I stand before his presence on that day
The only scars my eyes will see are from his wounds that bled for me
As he wipes my tears away, I know he'll say

Chorus:

You see the scars that you see are only wounds healed by me
They just remind you of where I use to be
They did not alter they don't change my love remains the same
For the scars that you see are only wounds healed by me

Tag:

They did not alter they don't change
His love remain the same
The only scars I'll see
Are from his wounds that bled for me
His Precious Scars from Calvary
Will be the only scars I'll see.

D.O.C. 1998